Higher Rates On Luxuries, Lower On Food, Clothing Being Considered

WASHINGTON, April 2—Rep. Disney (D) of Okla., a ranking member of the House ways and means committee, announced today in a formal statement that he had conducted a survey of the House "which convinces me that an overwhelming majority will vote for a federal sales tax."

The statement came after other members reported that an informal poll of the tax-writing committee showed enough votes there to write the sales tax into the treasury's $7,610,000,000 war revenue bill. These members, however, said that the sentiment of the House as a whole was still doubtful.

Disney suggested the graduated sales tax with higher rates on luxuries than on cheaper food, clothing and other necessities. He said that the exact rates would have to be worked out by the committee. Disney added:

"Two outstanding reasons favor a sales tax—first to hedge against inflation, and second, there is no other way of raising enough money without destroying important sources of income."

BIG GUNS TRADE BLOWS IN DUEL AT CORREGIDOR

WASHINGTON, April 2—With Japanese land troops again forced to a virtual standstill on Bataan, the guns of Corregidor today fought off intermittent enemy aerial attacks for the tenth consecutive day while artillery batteries duelled with Japanese siege guns on the Manila bay shore.

The War department in a communique reported only local patrol activity on both sides on Bataan since the American-Filipino forces stopped a heavy Japanese attack in furious hand-to-hand combat. Enemy artillery and dive bombers, however, continued their shelling and bombing of American positions on the peninsula, indicating that the Japanese intend to continue the offensive launched early last week.

British Claim Nazi Sub Base Is "Out for Year"

RAF Bombs Ford Plant Near Paris

Fifteen Big Planes Lost During All-Out Offensive Against German Centers in Reichland, France And Belgium

LONDON, April 2—In a series of raids that cost 15 bombers, planes of the RAF during the night staged devastating attacks on vital military objectives in Germany, France and Belgium.

A broadcast from Vichy admitted that the Ford factory at Poissy on the outskirts of Paris was "heavily damaged" in this latest evidence of Britain's determination to open at least an aerial "second front" on continental Europe.

Industrial objectives and communications in west and northwestern Germany were heavily pounded, while the docks and shipping at Le Havre were attacked.

Specially built mine laying planes also dropped mines at strategic places in enemy waters.

Airdromes, Factories Hit

In Belgium and in France, Nazi air fields, factories and railroad centers were bombed. The air ministry announcement gave no specific details of the damage done at the Ford plant, known locally as "Matford," but judging by the Vichy announcement it may parallel the tremendous ruin wrought during a recent RAF attack against the Renault motor factory at Billancourt, near Paris.

Both the Ford and Renault works had been converted to manufacture tanks and armored cars for the German army.

(Editor's Note: A German communique termed the British raids "disturbance attacks" and said that 11 planes were shot down by anti-aircraft fire and night fighters. Civilians suffered some casualties but material damage was slight," Berlin said.)

THOUSANDS OF JAPANESE MOVE FROM SEA AREA

SAN FRANCISCO, April 2—Under the watchful eyes of the United States Army and other government agencies, thousands of Pacific coast Japanese aliens and their American-born descendants were on the move today as evacuation from vital areas got fully under way.

In the Northwest plans were completed by the Army to use the Portland, Ore., livestock exposition building as a reception center, and it was expected that vast numbers of Japanese would be brought there immediately.

They will remain there pending their permanent removal to a location east of the Cascade mountains, according to Col. Donald J. Leehey, Portland district army engineer.

OFFICE FURNITURE, OTHER STOCKS ORDERED FROZEN

WASHINGTON, April 2—The WPB today "froze" stocks of metal office furniture and equipment in the hands of manufacturers, as of April 1, and banned production of all such articles, except metal shelving, after May 31. The order stopped production immediately of metal filing cabinets, safes and other such equipment except to fill defense orders.

GERMANY'S mammoth submarine base at St. Nazaire, France, will be unable to service the Reich's long-range submarines for "at least a year" according to London, where it was reported that the trick of ramming the harbor's main locks with a destroyer loaded with dynamite was successful. This photograph, taken by the RAF immediately after the raid, shows the installations which were wrecked. (1)—outer locks, which kept water from dropping during low tide, are missing. (2)—dock pumphouse destroyed. (3)—damaged machine house. (4)—sheds adjoining pumphouse destroyed. (5)—building damaged. (6)—damage to u-boat pens which were under construction. (7)—destroyed building.

WORK ON RADIO PARTS RESUMES AS STRIKE ENDS

CAMDEN, N. J., April 2—Although their pay dispute with the Radio Condenser company, holder of $5,000,000 in defense contracts, has not yet been settled, 803 AFL workers today ended their one-day strike and returned to their posts.

A statement, issued jointly by U. S. Conciliator Commissioner Michael J. Crosetto and Samuel Steinman, state mediator, declared:

"The Radio Condenser company and local B-987, Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, AFL, reached a basis of settlement of their dispute at 5:30 a. m. today after 15 hours of continuous negotiations. "The employees will resume work as soon as they can be notified. Negotiations on compensation clauses of the contract will be continued today."

Almost 75 percent of the nation's facilities for the manufacture of radio condensers were tied up when 803 AFL workmen walked out in demand of a 15 percent wage increase.

Infant, Born In Lifeboat After Axis Torpedo Destroys Ship, Doing Well

NORFOLK, Va., April 2—Closely holding her four day old son, a young mother today thanked a New York doctor who, in agony from two broken ribs, delivered her premature baby in a crowded lifeboat after their ship was torpedoed and sunk off the Atlantic coast Sunday.

The woman is Mrs. Desanka Mohorovic, of New York City, who was brought to Norfolk with her eight-pound son, Jesse Roper, and 85 other survivors of the American passenger-cargo vessel. Eleven of the 39 passengers are missing, three members of the crew of 92 are known dead and 19 are missing.

When two torpedoes from an axis submarine struck the ship in broad daylight the survivors were crowded into four lifeboats and two rafts tossed about by 15-foot waves for 38 hours until rescued. Mrs. Mohorovic, 28-year-old

Fate Of Several Freighters Uncertain After Attempt To Reach England

NAZI CRAFT IN ACTION

Eleven Vessels Flee Swedish Port, But Are Attacked By Cruisers, Planes

STOCKHOLM, April 2—Fears were felt today that the bulk of a Norwegian "suicide fleet" of merchant ships that put out from Gothenburg, Sweden, in an attempt to reach England had been cornered and sunk by German warships or bombing planes.

The fleet consisted of 11 vessels, interned at Gothenburg since the German invasion of Norway. Latest reports said that two had put back safely into Gothenburg, while three are known to have been sunk and the other six are missing.

After lengthy deliberation, the Swedish supreme court recently ruled that the ships were the legal property of the Norwegian government in exile in London, and as such could be returned to British sovereignty and protection if any crews could be found to sail them through the Nazi blockade.

All Ships Manned

This apparently was not difficult, for within a week after the court decision was handed down, all ships were fully manned with Norwegian sailors ready to risk their lives in an attempt to get the vessels through.

Watchers along the shore saw the fleet attacked by armed German ships. Two were seen to go down and a third was last sighted in flames.

The ships included tankers and freighters.

Courage of the Norwegian crews in taking the vessels to sea despite the court's decision aroused (Continued on Page Three)

WRECK PROBED BY DEPUTIES, STATE PATROL

Sheriff's department and the state highway patrol were conducting an investigation Thursday concerning a wrecked automobile found north of Circleville on route 23 opposite the residence of Ivan Deffenbaugh.

The car carried license E-1825 which had been issued to Wells Reynolds, 48 South Fifth street, Columbus.

The automobile, a 1936 Chevrolet, was almost a complete wreck, but authorities could find no one who had been in it when it was wrecked. The car broke off guard rail along the highway.

RUBBER CRISIS FATHER OF SIX DESPERATE NOW ENDS HIS LIFE

Czar Of Production Points To Map; Nipponese Hold 95 Percent Of Supply

WASHINGTON, April 2—Arthur B. Newhall, a 51-a-year man on leave from the zipper industry, summed up the nation's rubber situation in two words today: "It's desperate."

The executive vice-president of Talon, Inc., of Meadville, Pa., and former official of the Goodrich Tire and Rubber Co., voiced this comment in his new capacity as czar of rubber production.

Beyond that brief summary, Newhall refused to go, however. "The situation is nothing less than desperate," he said, "but I can't make any further statements until I have had an opportunity to study the various phases of the rubber problem completely."

Albert Lewis Davis Found Dead On Kitchen Floor; .22 Rifle Used

Albert Lewis Davis, 38, Washington township trucker and father of six children, died in the kitchen of his home Thursday at 3 a. m. of a rifle wound in the forehead, described by Acting Coroner B. T. Hedges as self-inflicted. Despondency was said to have been the motive.

Davis was employed by County Engineer Henry McCrady as a gravel hauler and had worked Wednesday for the county. His widow, Florence Garner Davis, related how he had been nervous for the last two weeks and had experienced many sleepless nights. She was awakened by the gun shot and, leaving her bed, found her husband on the kitchen floor. A .22 caliber rifle lay across his body.

Mrs. Davis summoned her neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Hedges and Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Stiles. Coroner Hedges was called and reported Davis died instantly. The repeating rifle contained several shells in the magazine and an empty .22 short cartridge in the chamber.

The bullet penetrated the center of the forehead and lodged near the base of the skull. The widow is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Garner, 617 Elm avenue. Also surviving are the parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Davis, of Pike county, and six children, Richard, 13, Robert, 10, Ruth, 8, Margaret, 5, John, 3, and Albert, three months old.

The body was taken to the Deffenbaugh funeral home where funeral arrangements are being made.

AYRES STARTS HIS SERVICE IN FEDERAL CAMP

WYETH, Ore., April 2—Film Actor Lew Ayres, whose scruples against carrying arms led him to a conscientious objector's camp near Wyeth, began his first day in camp today by getting up at 6 a. m.

The young actor arrived late yesterday, and was enrolled as the 171st member of the camp, which is operated, under government supervision, by the Brethren and Mennonite churches.

He said he liked the camp, calling it "an ideal spot."

Surprise Landing Made In Bay Of Bengal; Cruisers Cover Offensive

PROME AREA IN DANGER

Calcutta Only 300 Miles From Latest Conquest Of Tokyo's Forces

CHUNGKING, April 2—Japanese forces have made a surprise landing at Akyab, a major port on the western coast of Burma, a Chinese military spokesman announced today.

The landing was covered by enemy cruisers and destroyers operating in the Bay of Bengal, the spokesman said.

Akyab was the last important Burmese harbor remaining in British hands. The landing will enable a flanking movement against the oil fields north of Promé and a drive against the Chittagong area between Burma and India proper.

The spokesman gave no intimation as to the strength of the enemy forces. It had been understood, however, that Akyab was heavily guarded.

(EDITOR'S NOTE: British officials in London said that the Akyab landing, if confirmed, will place the British forces at Promé in a critical position.

(The terrain is admittedly difficult and the Japanese who have landed must negotiate southern foothills which are hard to traverse.

May Attack India

(But if the landing is consolidated the Japanese will have an excellent new military and air base not only for an outflanking movement for raids into upper Burma, but as a stepping stone to India proper.

(From Akyab to Calcutta is only a 300-mile flight, thus the landing places the Calcutta area in immediate danger of bombing. Akyab is 250 miles from Mandalay.

(The city, Burma's third largest port, has extensive dock facilities.

(Although official British circles refused comment, some observers in London said that the Japanese achievement might conceivably bring about an eleventh hour miracle as regards Anglo-Indian difficulties and cause a change of heart among the Indian elements opposing Britain's scheme for eventual Indian independence.)

REDS HIT HARD AT GERMANS IN TWO VICINITIES

MOSCOW, April 2—Striking furiously on the northwest fronts in the vicinity of Staraya Russa and Leningrad, Russian forces were reported today to have killed 5,000 additional Nazi troops, while violent fighting was said to have flared up on the Salla front where Soviet troops have begun a large-scale attack against the Finns.

As guns in the North blazed over a wide battle area, great activity was reported taking place behind both the German and Russian lines in the Donetz basin and the Crimea, with both sides apparently girding their forces for the forthcoming all-out spring campaign.

(Editor's Note: Authoritative sources in London intimated yesterday that a strong German thrust might be expected at any time in the Black Sea region.)

The midnight communique of the Red army said at least 3,000 Germans had been killed on the Leningrad front in the last two days while other reports said 2,000 Nazis had been slain at Staraya Russa.

ORDINANCE REJECTED

Council voted six to one Wednesday night against an ordinance which would have placed the traffic officer's position under supervision of the chief of police instead of under the safety director as it is at present. Councilman-at-large Frank A. Lynch was the only solon to support the issue.

Infant, Born In Lifeboat After Axis Torpedo Destroys Ship, Doing Well

NORFOLK, Va., April 2—Close by holding her four day old son, a young mother today thanked a New York doctor who, in agony from two broken ribs, delivered her premature baby in a crowded lifeboat after their ship was torpedoed and sunk off the Atlantic coast Sunday.

The woman is Mrs. Desanka Mohorovic, of New York City, who was brought to Norfolk with her eight-pound son, Jesse Roper, and 86 other survivors of the American passenger-cargo vessel. Eleven of the 39 passengers are missing, three members of the crew of 92 are known dead and 19 are missing.

When two torpedoes from an axis submarine struck the ship in broad daylight the survivors were crowded into four lifeboats and two rafts tossed about by 15-foot waves for 38 hours until rescued.

Mrs. Mohorovic, 23-year-old wife of an attaché in the Yugoslavian consulate in New York, was placed in one of the lifeboats with 24 other survivors. She fell entering the boat and was partly knocked out. About four hours later the ship's doctor, L. H. Conly, of Brooklyn, suffering from his injuries, delivered Mrs. Mohorovic's baby in total darkness without anesthesia and with only simple instruments contained in the lifeboat's medical kit.

"Brave, Lovely Woman" Dr. Conly said that the young mother was in labor for "three or four hours" and added that "it was a wonder that she could stand it." He praised her as "a brave, lovely woman."

Mrs. Mohorovic and her infant were removed to the Norfolk hospital where both are reported to be doing well. Speaking in a slow voice, she said: "I want to thank Dr. Conly and several of the seamen who were in the lifeboat with me during the birth of my baby."

The submarine that attacked the vessel apparently escaped the fire of a navy gun crew which continued action until the decks were awash before attempting to save their own lives. It was believed that some of the five-man gun crew were drowned.

When the survivors were finally picked up by the rescue ship they were in such a crowded and weakened condition that they were unable to be of much help in the rescue.

Mrs. Mohorovic, it was said, however, climbed practically unaided up the side of the vessel on a cargo net and walked forward to take a shower before going to bed.

The baby was born in a lifeboat carrying 25 survivors about four hours after the axis undersea raider sent two torpedoes into the American ship.

PAROLEE ADMITS KILLING THREE AFTER RELEASE

Dominick Piccone, 20, caught By Michigan Troopers After Crime Wave

FOURTH MAN ABDUCTED

Grudge Settled, Ex-Convict Tells Officers; 900 Miles Covered

PONTIAC, Mich., April 2—Dominick Piccone, 20-year-old prison parolee, confessed today, state police said, that he shot and killed a 71-year-old farmer because of an old grudge, murdered another aged man during a "scuffle," and also killed a third man "because he got very fresh."

This and his kidnapping of a fourth man, all occurred within the space of 30 hours and covered a 900 mile odyssey of crime, officers said.

Piccone, who was released from prison only two weeks ago, was taken into custody three miles north of Otisville in Genesee county when state troopers overtook the car in which he and Ray Thorpe, Pontiac war worker, were riding.

Thorpe was at the wheel. Between the times of the first murders on Tuesday night and his capture this morning, Piccone had forced his captive to drive him on a wild tour that took them as far North as Cadillac and as far South as Detroit, Jackson and Concord.

Twenty hours after a state-wide hunt started, Piccone and Thorpe drove by the homes where two of the murders occurred and several police cars were bunched, it was said.

As Piccone emerged from the car with hands upraised police said he told them:

"I would've taken a shot at you guys only Thorpe was too nervous."

The latest victim in a trail of crime that had every law enforcement agency in the state covering all important highways was Carl McKenzie, 49-year-old member of the Concord township school board, found near Jackson.

Man Shot Near Heart

He was shot at eight times last night and one bullet penetrated near his heart. He crawled a fifth of a mile before being found and before he gasped out his story that he was shot after investigating two men in a parked car.

The general alarm for Piccone was sent out early Wednesday after two aged farmers were shot to death in Oakland county. The victims in this shooting were Cassius Barber, 71, and his cousin, C. Romaine Potter, 75.

They were shot to death in their homes located a quarter of a mile apart.

Barber's mother-in-law, Mrs. Elizabeth Murphy, 93, said that one of the men who entered her home where Barber was shot was Piccone. Piccone had previously worked on Barber's farm.

Thorpe, who lived near the Barber home, disappeared about the time the Oakland county murders were committed.

The shooting of McKenzie occurred near the village of Concord, more than 100 miles from the Barber and Potter homes.

Water Company To Stand On Its Present Contract

Ohio Water Service company has refused to accept a resolution passed by council several meetings ago which declares the hydrant rental rates excessive and which seeks to terminate the contract with the company.

In a letter read to council Wednesday night, G. Taylor Evans,

Struthers, vice-president of the water company, acknowledged receipt of the resolution, but said the company considered it contradictory to the original contract and would not accept it as legal.

The renewed contract will remain effective until June, 1943, during which time the company executive declared the city would be billed for its water the same as it had in the past.

Council accepted the letter without discussion, although the question may come up again in future meetings. Discussion on the purchase of the water company has taken much of council's recess time during the last two sessions. Last Wednesday night, Evans met with councilmen in a committee meeting, presenting a complete financial report of the water company's operating and maintenance costs. During that meeting he told council of the company's intention to refuse to accept the resolution terminating the water contract.

The rush season on sales of auto license plates is over at Brinker's Sales agency. During the month just past, 754 plate sets were disposed of, the first purchaser on Monday morning, March 2, being Mrs. Georgia Hott and the last sale, late Tuesday evening, March 31, to Dr. L. C. Schiff. About fifty more plates were sold this sales month of 1942 than over the same period of 1941. Open season through the year for any sort of license connected with autos and the road sort.

It is with pride and appreciation that we report last week's Savings Stamp sale results for the Ashville school—the largest by far for any one week—$35.55. Students, parents and teachers of Ashville are to be congratulated for their continued support in buying stamps and bonds through the Business Training class and, while the money goes to the government to help defray expenses of the war, our school gets credit for the sales and keeps up in the race for first place in county school sales with (it is rumored) a Savings Bond as the reward.

With last week's big sale, which, incidentally, included the sale of the first $25.00 bond, the total for the eight weeks amounts to $137.75. High for last week's sales was Jack Foreman, who disposed of $5.90 worth of stamps, followed by Bill Cain who sold

Spring athletics at AHS are not only being thought about but also being started, with a "bevy" of boys donning their track outfits for a few laps around the track and on the road this week. Cross country running is planned for the spring's activities and already a route has been mapped and a few boys have tried it out with trial runs. This route goes east from the school, north to Route 752, west to Long street and thence back to the school, a total distance of 1.9 miles. Athletes with aspirations for letters in track who have put in their appearance for practice are Elmer Neff, Lawrence Nance, Turney Metzger, Burman Thompson and Eugene Wilson. Marvin White, a letterman of last year will be performing for Jackson township this spring, having moved to that area a few weeks ago.

Others expected to help place AHS high in the county meet at New Holland, May 8, are Robert Young, Dick Hudson, Dale Miller, Romaine Wilson, Don Duvall, Kenneth Tomlinson, Harry Rife (newcomer from Washington township), Harold Pardee and Lawrence Pettibone. If any others come out for practice they will be given recognition later.

Baseball practice is to begin this week, with prospective pitchers getting the first call to go through the limbering-up drills. These, so far, are Lawrence Nance, Eugene Wilson, Russell Gregg and Ralph Roese. Announcements will soon be forthcoming regarding scheduled games of baseball and track meets.

PAROLEE ADMITS KILLING THREE AFTER RELEASE

Dominick Piccone, 20, caught By Michigan Troopers After Crime Wave

FOURTH MAN ABDUCTED

Grudge Settled, Ex-Convict Tells Officers; 900 Miles Covered

PONTIAC, Mich., April 2—Dominick Piccone, 20-year-old prison parolee, confessed today, state police said, that he shot and killed a 71-year-old farmer because of an old grudge, murdered another aged man during a "scuffle," and also killed a third man "because he got very fresh."

This and his kidnapping of a fourth man, all occurred within the space of 30 hours and covered a 900 mile odyssey of crime, officers said.

Piccone, who was released from prison only two weeks ago, was taken into custody three miles north of Otisville in Genesee county when state troopers overtook the car in which he and Ray Thorpe, Pontiac war worker, were riding.

Thorpe was at the wheel. Between the times of the first murder on Tuesday night and his capture this morning, Piccone had forced his captive to drive him on a wild tour that took them as far North as Cadillac and as far South as Detroit, Jackson and Concord. Twenty hours after a state-wide hunt started, Piccone and Thorpe drove by the homes where two of the murders occurred and several police cars were bunched, it was said.

As Piccone emerged from the car with hands upraised police said he told them: "I would've taken a shot at you guys only Thorpe was too nervous."

The latest victim in a trail of crime that had every law enforcement agency in the state covering all important highways was Carl McKenzie, 49-year-old member of the Concord township school board, found near Jackson.

Man Shot Near Heart

He was shot at eight times last night and one bullet penetrated near his heart. He crawled a fifth of a mile before being found and before he gasped out his story that he was shot after investigating two men in a parked car. The general alarm for Piccone was sent out early Wednesday after two aged farmers were shot to death in Oakland county. The victims in this shooting were Cassius Barber, 71, and his cousin, C. Romaine Potter, 75.

They were shot to death in their homes located a quarter of a mile apart. Barber's mother-in-law, Mrs. Elizabeth Murphy, 93, said that one of the men who entered her home where Barber was shot was Piccone. Piccone had previously worked on Barber's farm.

Thorpe, who lived near the Barber home, disappeared about the time the Oakland county murders were committed.

The shooting of McKenzie occurred near the village of Concord, more than 100 miles from the Barber and Potter homes.

While many of the world's ancient buildings are being destroyed in the war, many of the United States landmarks have been completely measured and recorded so that restoration would be possible in the event of enemy damage, the department of the interior reports.

POLL DISCLOSES POSSIBLE TEST FOR VITAL BILL

House Committee May Send Question To Floor For Final Decision

(Continued from Page One) man Doughton (D) N. C., predicted that public hearings on the all-time record tax bill will be concluded sometime during the week starting April 13 when the House returns from an informal two weeks Easter recess.

Members said, however, that extended executive sessions will be required before the committee iron out all the many controversial points in the measure. Most of them predicted that a bill will not be finally presented to the House until about June 1.

Perhaps the toughest fight facing the committee is whether to enact a general federal sales tax. This proposal, which has always had strong support in Congress, has been repeatedly opposed by the treasury, which prefers to get funds to finance the war mainly through increased individual income and corporate taxes.

Most witnesses who have discussed the subject before the committee so far have endorsed the sales tax idea. Rep. Burdick (R), N. D., appeared as a witness, however, to condemn the plan as "double and sometimes treble taxation which would fall on the poorer people and wouldn't raise much money anyway."

Burdick proposed instead that a 97 percent tax be levied on all profits during the war.

IF IT IS YOUR BIRTHDAY
Those whose birthday it is may anticipate a year devoted to social, domestic, romantic, and cultural activities, with much progress, happiness and stability given to all such engagements or business enterprises. These should be executed with much confidence and enthusiasm, despite the opposition or lack of cooperation of elders or old friends. It is admonished that harsh, caustic or impulsive words be averted lest regrets follow.

A child born on this day should be exceptionally versatile and talented in artistic, musical, literary or other professional pursuits in which it should attain standing and good fortune.

Burial will be in South Bloomfield cemetery by E. F. Schlegel.

THE LUNAR and mutual aspects bearing on the affairs of this day give emphasis to social, romantic, artistic and domestic engagements and to those occupations and business establishments concerned with these. All such should forge on with expansive and gratifying purpose, with high goals to be attained with confidence and gratification. But with all the joy and satisfaction there may be opposition from elders or old friends, with sharp words or deep wounds to be guarded against. Business relations with young folks should enjoy stability and sound growth.

'SUICIDE FLEET' OF NORWEGIAN STEAMERS LOST

Fate Of Several Freighters Uncertain After Attempt To Reach England

ed surprise and admiration in Stockholm.

All the waters that would have to be traversed are not only patrolled day and night by German ships and planes but are heavily mined.

Litigation concerning the ships constituted one of the most unusual cases ever to come before the Swedish supreme court. Premier Major Vidkun Quisling of Norway filed claim to them, insisting that occupation of Norway by Germany gave his nationalist regime the right to all Norwegian property, regardless of where it was located.

The court, however, ruled that the ships belonged to King Haakon of Norway and as they lay in a neutral port he could have them if there was any way of getting them.

The number of lives lost in the audacious if unsuccessful undertaking was not known.

lend emphasis to his gloomy picture of the rubber situation. It portrayed the location of plantation-grown rubber.

"It looks like a Japanese war map, doesn't it," Newhall said. Shaded areas in red represented rubber plantation areas throughout the world. Only three remain in the hands of the United Nations—Liberia, India and Ceylon. The balance—the East Indies, where about 95 percent of the world's rubber supply is produced—is in Japanese-conquered territory.

ALL-INDIA PARTY SET TO REJECT BRITAIN'S PLANS

NEW DELHI, April 2—The all-India Congress Party executive committee today completed its answer to the British proposals offering post-war dominion status in which, it was understood, the Indian nation is advised not to accept the British plan.

Sir Stafford Cripps, special envoy of the British war cabinet who previously announced postponement of his return to England, nevertheless remained hopeful that a solution to the Indian problem may yet be found.

The British envoy, who also is his government's lord privy seal, was asked whether he would obtain powers from the government to appoint an Indian defense minister if he did not already possess such authority.

"I can obviously consult the cabinet at any moment if I consider that necessary," he replied. One of the strongest objections of Indian factions is that the proposals provide for British control of India's defense until after the war and Indian leaders are demanding that an Indian be put in charge of defense immediately.

POLL DISCLOSES POSSIBLE TEST FOR VITAL BILL

House Committee May Send Question To Floor For Final Decision

man Doughton (D) N. C., predicted that public hearings on the all-time record tax bill will be concluded sometime during the week
starting April 13 when the House returns from an informal two weeks Easter recess.

Members said, however, that extended executive sessions will be required before the committee iron out all the many controversial points in the measure. Most of them predicted that a bill will not be finally presented to the House until about June 1.

Perhaps the toughest fight facing the committee is whether to enact a general federal sales tax. This proposal, which has always had strong support in Congress, has been repeatedly opposed by the treasury, which prefers to get funds to finance the war mainly through increased individual income and corporate taxes.

Most witnesses who have discussed the subject before the committee so far have endorsed the sales tax idea. Rep. Burdick (R), N. D., appeared as a witness, however, to condemn the plan as "double and sometimes treble taxation which would fall on the poor people and wouldn't raise much money anyway."

Burdick proposed instead that a 97 percent tax be levied on all profits during the war.

COUNCIL TO ASK LARGE ADVANCE FROM TAX FUND

Deficit Sends Officials To County Treasurer Seeking
Some Of City Share

FINANCIAL REPORT READ

Recommendations Voiced By
Ohio C. Of C. Auditor
To Be Studied

Following presentation of a financial report showing a city deficit of more than $6,000, council Wednesday night adopted a resolution authorizing the auditor to seek a $10,000 advance from the county treasurer on current tax distribution.

Action was taken to obtain the needed funds after a report of city finances as of April 1 showed outstanding bills of more than $8,000. Bills for fire hydrant rentals now total $6,912, according to the report and hospital bills total $1,798.95, with only $280.44 in the hospital fund with which to make payment.

The financial report showed balances in all funds to be as follows: general, $2,277.37; library, $1,376.89; sewage disposal, $6,677.80; auto street repair, $6,177.63; gasoline tax, $5,305.92 and hospital $280.44, making a total in all funds of $19,066.05.

Believing, however, that a tax advance will only temporarily solve its financial problem, council decided to meet in committee session next Wednesday at 8 p. m., at which time it will consider means of straightening out its finances. Primary reason for calling the meeting next Wednesday night is to consider a report made by W. B. Boden, Ohio Chamber of Commerce auditor, recommending certain changes in policy as a means of bettering financial conditions and of preventing city deficits in the future.

Monthly report of Mayor Ben H. Gordon, read at the council meeting, was as follows: fines, $32.50; licenses, $2.50; bonds, $569, making a total of $614.

CANNING PLANT PROPERTY TO BE CLEARED BY CITY

Declaring the Sears-Nichols property on South Washington street a "disgrace to the city," Councilman Boyd Horn, fourth ward, asked council Wednesday night to take action to have the property cleaned of rubbish and brush.

Council approved the move and steps will be taken to have the lot cleaned. Numerous protests from residents of the area are reported to have brought the council action.

Horn also asked that council give further consideration to the construction of an overpass or underpass to the railroad on South Pickaway street and suggested that houses on Wheeler and Second avenue be provided with water by the construction of a two inch water line from Second avenue into

MOVE TO CLOSE PART OF STREET BRINGS PROTEST

Thirteen residents of the Pearl street district voiced their opposition to closing the south half of Pearl street from Washington street to the J. W. Eshelman and Sons plant in a petition presented to council Wednesday night. Council scheduled a hearing for April 15.

The request to close a section of Pearl street was made to council March 4 by J. W. Eshelman and Sons company, which plans to build an extension on one end of its plant.

COUNTY PUPILS MEET SATURDAY FOR TEAM TEST

Students of Pickaway county high schools will meet at the Circleville high school building Saturday at 9:30 a. m. to participate in county selection tests.

The testing program, which will last two hours, will include subjects for all four grades of high school. Each school is allowed two entries in each of the subjects.

The morning will be divided into two periods, one beginning at 9:30 and running until 10:30 and the other starting at 10:35 and running until 11:35.

Schedule for Period I is as follows:

Room 201 typing I; room 202, Latin II; room 204, English I, English II, English III, English IV; room 205, Latin I; room 209, chemistry and physics; room 210, general science and biology; room 211, algebra and plane geometry; room 212, bookkeeping I; room 213, world history and senior social studies; room 214, American history.

The same schedule as used for Period I will be used for Period II for students taking tests in two subjects, with the exception of the commercial subjects. Also during the second period, shorthand I will be given in Room 201 and shorthand II in room 212.

The area. No action was taken on either matter.

COUNCIL TO ASK LARGE ADVANCE FROM TAX FUND

Deficit Sends Officials To County Treasurer Seeking
Some Of City Share

FINANCIAL REPORT READ

Recommendations Voiced By
Ohio C. Of C. Auditor
To Be Studied

Following presentation of a financial report showing a city deficit of more than $6,000, council Wednesday night adopted a resolution authorizing the auditor to seek a $10,000 advance from the county treasurer on current tax distribution.

Action was taken to obtain the needed funds after a report of city finances as of April 1 showed outstanding bills of more than $8,000. Bills for fire hydrant rentals now total $6,912, according to the report and hospital bills total $1,798.95, with only $280.44 in the hospital fund with which to make payment.

The financial report showed balances in all funds to be as follows: general, $2,277.37; library, $1,376.80; sewage disposal, $6,677.80; auto street repair, $3,177.63; gasoline tax, $5,505.92 and hospital $280.44, making a total in all funds of $19,096.03.

Believing, however, that a tax advance will only temporarily solve its financial problem, council decided to meet in committee session next Wednesday at 8 p. m., at which time it will consider means of straightening out its finances. Primary reason for calling the meeting next Wednesday night is to consider a report made by W. B. Boden, Ohio Chamber of Commerce auditor, recommending certain changes in policy as a means of bettering financial conditions and of preventing city deficits in the future.

Monthly report of Mayor Ben H. Gordon, read at the council meeting, was as follows: fines, $32.50; licenses, $2.50; bonds, $569, making a total of $614.

CANNING PLANT PROPERTY TO BE CLEARED BY CITY

Declaring the Sears-Nichols property on South Washington street a "disgrace to the city," Councilman Boyd Horn, fourth ward, asked council Wednesday night to take action to have the property cleaned of rubbish and brush.

Council approved the move and steps will be taken to have the lot cleaned. Numerous protests from residents of the area are reported to have brought the council action.

Horn also asked that council give further consideration to the construction of an overpass or underpass to the railroad on South Pickaway street and suggested that houses on Wheeler and Second avenue be provided with water by the construction of a two inch water line from Second avenue into the area. No action was taken on either matter.

MOVE TO CLOSE PART OF STREET BRINGS PROTEST

Thirteen residents of the Pearl street district voiced their opposition to closing the south half of Pearl street from Washington street to the J. W. Eshelman and Sons plant in a petition presented to council Wednesday night. Council scheduled a hearing for April 15.

The request to close a section of Pearl street was made to council March 4 by J. W. Eshelman and Sons company, which plans to build an extension on one end of its plant.

Helvering Is Authorized To Advertise For Bids For

Wolf Tells Councilmen That 23 Old Cisterns Have Been Located

Supplies for the service department's spring program were guaranteed Wednesday night when council adopted a resolution giving the service director power to advertise for bids for 2,000 to 120,000 gallons of liquid asphalt and 2,000 tons of crushed stone.

The liquid asphalt is divided into two grades, a fine and a heavy grade, one to be used as a top dressing for streets and the other for mixing with crushed stone for repair work. The resolution calls for amounts of 1,000 to 60,000 in each of the grades.

Service Director Clarence Helvering pointed out to council that his department did not anticipate using that amount of material, but cheaper rates may be obtained by advertising for large amounts.

The service department will operate on the conservative side this year, according to Helvering, and will spend money only where necessary for the maintenance and repair of city streets. Most of the streets are in fairly good condition, he said, with the exception of small holes which must be patched. The curbs and sidewalks generally are in fair condition.

Funds Uncertain

Uncertainty in the amount of funds which will be available for the service department this year has caused officials to eliminate any unnecessary spending there. The reduction in automobiles in operation this summer may mean smaller revenue in the auto street repair fund and in the gasoline tax fund, from which the service department operates. Gasoline tax money now totals $5,305.92 and auto street repair funds $3,177.63.

Grading alleys to a crown to permit water to drain from them properly will be one of the programs undertaken by the service department within the next few weeks.

23 Cisterns Located

Twenty-three of the cisterns have been located and twenty of them can be repaired and put into use, Acting Fire Chief Robert Wolf told councilmen Wednesday night. Three others, one at Court and Ohio, one at Court and High and one at Pickaway and Mound, have been filled with dirt and cannot be used.

The cistern at Pickaway and Mill was opened Wednesday afternoon and found to be filled with gas. The gas ignited when a lantern was lowered and the firemen were forced to spray water into the cistern to put it out.

Work of reconditioning the cisterns is expected to take the fire and service departments several days.

SPECIAL SERVICES

Two special services will be held at the Ashville Methodist church Thursday evening, beginning at 7:30. The first service will be a series of slides portraying the Passion of Christ. This will be followed by a candlelight communion service in the basement of the church. The service will be repeated on Friday evening at 7:30 at Hedges Chapel.

EUREKA JUBILEE SINGERS APPEAR IN CITY MONDAY

Eureka Jubilee singers, of Chicago, Ill., will give their Spiritual and plantation concert at the Circleville Methodist church Monday night, April 6 at 8 o'clock.

The first half of this program will be given in formal attire and after a brief intermission the singers will return to the stage dressed in "cotton field" attire for the balance of their concert.

For several years these singers were heard on CBS and NBC network, but for the last several years they have given themselves over to strictly Christian work and program.

H. Max Good, founder and director of Soul's Harbor, Columbus, will accompany the singers. There is no admission charge for this program.

The singers are appearing at the Kiwanis Club at 6:30 p. m. just before going to the church for the evening concert.

Washington Merry-Go- Round

for representing private clients before government agencies.

Most of the Justice Department big-shots are in a cold sweat over the case and want quietly to bury it. They are scared stiff over the prospect of tangling with Cox. The raucous-voiced little Georgian is a potent figure in the House.

He is a leader of the powerful bloc of Southern, anti-New Deal, labor-baiting Democrats, ranking member of the mighty Rules Committee, and on close personal terms with House floor chiefs. Also he is a resourceful and tough fighter, especially when under fire.

So most of the Justice big-shots want to let Cox off, perhaps, with some private task-taking. But younger members of the Department are demanding legal action. They contend that the law is explicit and that it is the duty of the Department to enforce it without fear or favor.

Attorney General Francis Biddle has not yet made up his mind. He is not noted for decisive action.

THE CASE

This is the information in the hands of the Justice Department: Station WALS, Albany, Ga., in Cox's district, applied to the Federal Communications Commission for a construction permit to change its frequency. Cox made several visits to the FCC in behalf of WALS. However, his name did not appear on the station's formal application as its attorney of record.

After several hearings, the FCC granted the permit and when WALS opened its new station, Albany newspapers gave Cox much of the credit for putting the project over. They acclaimed him as a potent figure in Washington.

Around this time, Cox received a check for $2,500 from WALS. This check he converted into stock of the station. The Justice Department has a copy of this check.

Later, Hugh McCarthy, $135-a-month clerk in Cox's congressional office, sent WALS a bill for $226 he claimed was due him for services performed in connection with the permit. In addition to working for Cox, McCarthy also practices law on the side.

WALS refused to pay McCarthy. The station wrote him that Cox already had been paid for the job and the station saw no reason why it should fork over any money to McCarthy.

As far as the Justice Department knows, McCarthy still is unpaid. If he got any money he hasn't got it from WALS.

An interesting angle of the affair is that for months, Cox has been loudly clamoring for a House probe of the Communications Commission on the ground that it has a secret Gestapo. He introduced a resolution for such an investigation and has made a number of speeches demanding action on it, and denouncing the FCC.

Under congressional practice, if the probe is ordered, Cox would be chairman of the committee.

Note: Several years ago Cox was disclosed as being the No. 1 nepotist in the House. At that time he had eight relatives on the government payroll for a total take, including his $10,000 salary, of more than $55,000 a year.

The first half of this program will be given in formal attire and after a brief intermission the singers will return to the stage dressed in "cotton field" attire for the balance of their concert.

For several years these singers were heard on CBS and NBC network, but for the last several years they have given themselves over to strictly Christian work and program.

H. Max Good, founder and director of Soul's Harbor, Columbus, will accompany the singers. There is no admission charge for this program.

The singers are appearing at the Kiwanis Club at 6:30 p. m. just before going to the church for the evening concert.

for representing private clients before government agencies.

Most of the Justice Department big-shots are in a cold sweat over the case and want quietly to bury it. They are scared stiff over the prospect of tangling with Cox. The raucous-voiced little Georgian is a potent figure in the House.

He is a leader of the powerful bloc of Southern, anti-New Deal, labor-baiting Democrats, ranking member of the mighty Rules Committee, and on close personal terms with House floor chiefs. Also he is a resourceful and tough fighter, especially when under fire.

So most of the Justice big-shots want to let Cox off, perhaps, with some private task-asking. But younger members of the Department are demanding legal action. They contend that the law is explicit and that it is the duty of the Department to enforce it without fear or favor.

Attorney General Francis Biddle has not yet made up his mind. He is not noted for decisive action.

THE CASE

This is the information in the hands of the Justice Department: Station WALB, Albany, Ga., in Cox's district, applied to the Federal Communications Commission for a construction permit to change its frequency. Cox made several visits to the FCC in behalf of WALB. However, his name did not appear on the station's formal application as its attorney of record.

After several hearings, the FCC granted the permit and when WALB opened its new station, Albany newspapers gave Cox much of the credit for putting the project over. They acclaimed him as a potent figure in Washington.

Around this time, Cox received a check for $2,500 from WALB. This check he converted into stock of the station. The Justice Department has a copy of this check.

Later, Hugh McCarthy, $135-a-month clerk in Cox's congressional office, sent WALB a bill for $226 he claimed was due him for services performed in connection with the permit. In addition to working for Cox, McCarthy also practices law on the side.

WALB refused to pay McCarthy. The station wrote him that Cox already had been paid for the job and the station saw no reason why it should fork over any money to McCarthy.

As far as the Justice Department knows, McCarthy still is unpaid. If he got any money he hasn't got it from WALB.

An interesting angle of the affair is that for months, Cox has been loudly clamoring for a House probe of the Communications Commission on the ground that it has a secret Gestapo. He introduced a resolution for such an investigation and has made a number of speeches demanding action on it, and denouncing the FCC.

Under congressional practice, if the probe is ordered, Cox would be chairman of the committee.

Note: Several years ago Cox was disclosed as being the No. 1 nepotist in the House. At that time he had eight relatives on the government payroll for a total take, including his $10,000 salary, of more than $55,000 a year.

NEW FRONT

MAYBE the Commando raids are but small affairs. But they grow more important and successful. The blowing up of the dock gates at St. Nazaire is no trifle to be sneezed at.

The very smallness and surprise of these attacks makes them more and more formidable. They are beginning now to assume the proportions of a new front. They keep Hitler guessing. He could prepare for a large attack from one quarter and be ready to war against it, but these mosquito-like jumps to new and scattered objectives leave him worried. No one can guess where they are going to strike next.

OVER-REACHING

THE Japanese have done what many shrewd observers expected of them. They have over-extended themselves. They are in the position of the greedy little boy who stuck his fist into the sugar bowl and grabbed so many lumps that he couldn't get his hand out. Or they have cast their net so far, and taken so many fish, that the net is bound to break. Or in plain English, they have bitten off more than they can chew.

This is a childish thing to do. And therefore a natural thing. For the Japanese war lords, with all their shrewdness, seem but half-civilized, lacking the vision and scope of western statesmen.

Soon, we trust, will begin the process of cutting the strands of that net of conquest one by one. It will not be a pleasant job, but it can be done.

POPCORN PACKING

IT MAY seem frivolous to deal on the editorial page with such matters as chocolate cake and popcorn. But with all those soldier boys clamoring for home-made cake, and all those mothers, sisters and sweethearts, not to mention aunts and grandmas, making cake and trying to think up some way to get it to Camp Shelby, Fort Knox or Randolph Field—not to mention Reikjavik or Melbourne—without losing its frosting and getting dented and funny-looking on the way, the discovery of Mrs. W. R. Robinson of Greybull, Wyo., becomes important.

Mrs. Robinson tried everything she could think of and everything her neighbors suggested, in vain. Young Robinson liked his cake anyhow, but his mother still suffered the nagging unrest of the unsolved problem. Finally it came to her. Just like that! Popcorn! It works! She sets the cake down in the box on its cardboard plate, and she pours white, fluffy popcorn all over and around. It fills the corners and evens up the curves. It's strong and firm. It's so light that her parcels post

Daily Washington Merry-Go-Round

BY DREW PEARSON AND ROBERT S. ALLEN

MERRY-GO-ROUND APOLOGIZES

WASHINGTON — The Washington Merry-Go-Round wishes to correct an earlier statement that John L. Lewis had three relatives on union payrolls whose salaries, plus his own, gave the family an annual "take" of $48,500 from the collections of union dues.

We regret to say that on further investigation we find we erred grievously. We apologize to Mr. Lewis for underestimating his capacities and print below the full Lewis family payroll showing that the miner czar has not three but nine relatives in cushy jobs and that the family "take" is not $48,500 but $70,500:

John L. Lewis, president, United Mine Workers, $25,000*.

Kathryn Lewis, daughter, secretary-treasurer, District 50, UMW, $7,500*.

Denny Lewis, brother, head of United Construction Workers Organizing Committee, $10,000*.

J. R. Bell, brother-in-law, CIO controller, $6,000.

Orin Miller, brother-in-law, superintendent of the UMW office building in Indianapolis, Ind., $5,000.

Dan Collins, brother-in-law, CIO organizer, $3,600.

William Thomas, cousin, superintendent UMW building in Washington, $5,000.

Margaret Lindig, sister-in-law of Denny, UMW stenographer, $2,400.

Ann Miller, daughter of brother-in-law Orin Miller, UMW stenographer, $2,400.

Son-in-law of Floyd Bell, another Lewis brother-in-law, District 50 organizer, $3,600.

Total Lewis family payroll, $70,500.

(* In addition to their big salaries, Lewis, his daughter and brother also have fat expense accounts. What they spend is their secret. No figures have ever been revealed, even to union members.)

AND STILL MORE

Imposing as is this payroll list, it still does not tell the whole story.

There is one Lewis relative who is not on a union payroll but who garners a high-bracket income from unions controlled by John L. He is brother-in-law Floyd Bell, an insurance agent. Representative of a surety company, Bell has what amounts to a monopoly on the business of bonding all national, district and local UMW officers and all CIO officials.

His commissions are estimated at $40,000 a year.

This sum, plus the payroll listed above, would bring the total "take" of the Lewis family up to $111,500 a year.

DIET AND HEALTH

Causes of Painful Feet And How to Treat Them

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

PEOPLE who have had feet usually get a sore foot of the world and I can't say I much blame them. When your feet hurt, they hurt so much of the time that

Dr. Clendenning will answer questions of general interest only, and then only through his column.

you can't even walk around to relieve them.

At any rate, when the patients arrive at the doctor's office, they are usually distinguished by having an A-1 grouch. They have been led along various paths of dubious treatments with all sorts of hopes held out for them and no relief in the end.

They have been misled by all sorts of advertising aids and semi-specialists and usually bring a bag of various kinds of arch supports and devices accumulated over the passing years. This eloquent reminder of past failures is put on the foot specialist's desk with a sort of attitude which says, "I dare you to try to give me some relief."

Has Many Complaints

The fellow with bad feet has both general and local complaints. He is fatigued, irritable and unhappy. His heels ache, pains shoot up from his ankles, or the discomfort may center entirely about the arch.

Obviously in handling these patients the specialist will take into account the general as well as the local condition. The patient doesn't always necessarily and inevitably need arches. Perhaps his condition is due to a life-long habit of walking badly. So the first step in the examination of such a patient is to get him to walk around and see how he does it.

Badly Distributed Weight

His foot may be strained because something is the matter with his lower back, hip, knee or ankle joint, or because he has continued over a period of years to distribute his weight badly. Perhaps there is a history of strain on some part of his foot that makes him unable to bear that weight on it. The color of his skin is important, as well as signs of inflammation such as bursitis, planter warts, callosities or bunions.

After this the feet are studied in relation to the weight-bearing function, and an X-ray is indispensable in disclosing painful bone conditions that are otherwise not clearly evident on physical examination. Not only shoes, but socks are checked for adequate size.

In the long run, however, the essential thing about most foot conditions is the use of proper shoes. Again this means an individual adjustment of the shoe to the requirements of the patient. A shoe that may be all right for one person is by no means necessarily all right

For the normal child, the shoes should have a well-rounded toe, the leather sole should be of adequate thickness and the shank sturdy but flexible. In children who are overweight, with weak or pronated ankles, the shank should be stiff and necessary corrections made. For men with no special foot trouble, the best shoe has a rounded toe, is of soft leather, with a thick leather sole of adequate length and width.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

E. M. R.:—Can there be some substitution in the diet of a pregnant woman to supply calcium if the consumption of milk causes an irritated condition of the gall bladder and the stomach resulting in a hacking cough and bad sweating on the chest during the night? If this condition seems apparent before pregnancy, could adjustments be made during the period, thus supplying the prospective mother with enough calcium?

Answer: Vegetables, eggs, fruits and meat all contain calcium and it is possible to take calcium in pure form, such as calcium carbonate. In my experience however, inability to drink milk is more imaginary than real and can be overcome by persuasion.

LORENA CARLETON

CHAPTER THIRTY-FOUR

NOTHING Lois Lyndon could have done would have made Larry detest her more thoroughly. Positively stinking, Anette pulled her momentary escort from his chair and led him to the dance stage and into a hilarious conga chain. Above everything, she did not wish Larry to know she had witnessed that moment of utter debasement.

When they arrived home, about 3 o'clock, and Larry reached for a mirror and began a penetrating scrutiny of his temples, she knew he did not suspect she had seen or heard anything. And, for once, she was thankful that the liquor had dimmed his perception.

She even asked with careless laughter, "What on earth are you looking for, darling?"

"Gray hairs," he said immediately, still turning and twisting his head.

The girl slipped out of her long silver cloth coat, then walked over and took the hand mirror away from him. "How ridiculous," she scolded mildly. "You haven't had one for ages."

"But I have, Anette. I've been pulling them out. They seem to get there faster than I can yank them out!" His worried gaze sought hers. "Tell me how I seem to you, Anette. You're only 19. Do I seem old to you?"

"It's not your long white beard that I mind. It's the way your joints creak when you lower yourself to your wheel chair." Flippancy changed into impatience in sharpness. "Larry, to me you are the most wonderful and perfect person in the world. You're just right. In your work, you're right for August's 40, or whatever she is, just as you're right in real life for my 19. I don't think of you as anything except perfect. That day in your theater dressing room in Chicago, when you kissed me, I swore never to admit how much I loved you, to keep it from you as a sort of self-preservation or inner pride or something. I don't know exactly what. She shook her head. "But now, I don't want to keep quiet. It would be useless anyway, because you know how much I love you. You know that I'm sick with it and that I'll never be any other way." She put her hands on his black-clad shoulders, yet kept her distance. "Anette, the doorman!"

Larry gazed at her, so beautiful in her bouffant gown of white and silver embroidery, her jewels shimmering like myriad lights. Then he snatched her into his arms. "Oh, my darling, I'm such a fool—such a fool!"

He repeated the same remark to August Drake the morning after. They were having an 11 o'clock meal in a small, glass-walled breakfast room. The actress did not argue with him.

"I don't know why I get myself involved in silly situations," he glowered into an empty cereal dish. "Like this Lois Lyndon episode." His eyes sought August's. "You know, the crazy kid has marrying ideas. Imagine! But it's all over now, thank heaven!"

The actress poured herself a cup of black coffee. "I never could figure out why you passed Lois up for 20 other people. The shoe must be adapted to function, and to the anatomy of the foot. For the normal child, the shoes should have a well-rounded toe, the leather sole should be of adequate thickness and the shank sturdy but flexible. In children who are overweight, with weak or pronated ankles, the shank should be stiff and necessary corrections made. For men with no special foot trouble, the best shoe has a rounded toe, is of soft leather, with a thick leather sole of adequate length and width."

August Drake's glass-heeled boudoir slipper came down on the floor bell. "Bring me some brown sugar and heavy cream," she directed the Filipino boy. Later, burying the unsweetened stewed apples of her diet beneath that double richness, she accused Larry, "It's your fault. You make me so mad I have to do something violent and this is the most violent thing I can do."

In a tone of dictatorship the man said, "You shouldn't touch it. You know what it will do to your hips."

"Yes. And I know what the woofle water is doing to you." The fiery-haired actress turned angry eyes toward her partner. "Either could when you were single. Why did you have to wait until you were married to discover her charms?"

"So long as she was kissing me," he confessed, "I was bored with her. Then, to jolt Anette into coming with me, I kissed Lois. That's when it started to be different. After all, August, it had been over a year since I'd kissed anyone except Anette."

"What a record!" August commented dryly.

"Well, it was! You know how many girls I usually averaged a season?"

"Spare me!" The actress forbade, with an upraised hand. "Anyway, marriage is supposed to make a difference in one's romances."

Larry waited until the Filipino waiter had served bacon and poached eggs and retired to the serving pantry. "These silly little affairs have nothing to do with my marriage," he insisted.

"That's the remark men have been making since the first one made a fool of himself. Silly affairs mean something to Anette."

A quick unhip pinprick swept across Laurence Peyton's face. "If she would just be the spunky little dickens she used to be, instead of such a meek angel, I'd feel better. I find myself wishing she'd hit me with a brick."

"Why shouldn't she be meek? You've taken her work away from her and you do pretty well at taking yourself from her."

Larry scoffed, "Anette doesn't care about her work."

"You are lying and you know it," his partner pronounced. "If ever I saw a girl intended for the theater, she is it."

"All the same she isn't going to be. The only appearances I want her making are those as Laurence Peyton's wife."

"Why, you detestably conceited, selfish pig!" gritted August. She hardly could remember when any personal matter had irritated her sufficiently to cause tears other than those commonly called crocodile. But tears of sincerity were in her eyes now.

"Take it easy!" Larry said softly, but harshly. "You know I've tried to get her a break. But I'll be damned if I'll let her start out as one of the starlets on a penny bank salary."

"She would be willing."

Peyton said in determined repetition. "Well, I'm not! So since they won't offer her what she is worthy of, she is better off just as my wife."

August Drake's glass-heeled boudoir slipper came down on the floor bell. "Bring me some brown sugar and heavy cream," she directed the Filipino boy. Later, burying the unsweetened stewed apples of her diet beneath that double richness, she accused Larry, "It's your fault. You make me so mad I have to do something violent and this is the most violent thing I can do."

In a tone of dictatorship the man said, "You shouldn't touch it. You know what it will do to your hips."

"Yes. And I know what the woofle water is doing to you." The fiery-haired actress turned angry eyes toward her partner. "Either that or the robe you're wearing is darned unbecoming. And I'm sure," she continued viciously, "it is not the robe."

Larry flushed. "Well, what is a guy going to do in a town where champagne flows like Goose Creek in March?"

"Why don't you try shaking your head crosswise for a change instead of up and down?"

Rebelliously Larry said, "I like to drink."

"But you've got to have some sense about it. I like to eat, too," she dared. "I'd like to sit down right now to a New England meal of baked beans, country sausage, corn pudding, creamed oysters, cider jelly, apple Betty—when I marry Ted," she asserted, "I'm going to eat everything and as often as I wish."

Laurence Peyton put down his fork and leaned back in his chair. "Do you mean to say you are going to get married again?" When she nodded, without losing a chance at a bite of cream and sugar soaked apples, he said, "I should think you'd realize what marriage will do to your picture career."

"In this town where couples you don't even know are married get divorces?" August hooted. "Don't be idiotic! Besides, when I made that remonstrance concerning your marriage you told me it was an old chestnut."

"You kept on finding fault just the same," Larry reminded.

"Yes, and I still don't think much of your marriage," she declared meaningfully.

"Don't bother yourself with it."

"Oh, I won't." She gave a high-shouldered shrug. "I'll just think about my own. I'm going to get wrinkles and chins and hips and stomachs—"

The man cut in churlishly. "Then you won't work with me."

"I'll bet you're right."

During that lull, Anette walked into the breakfast room, lovely in a bright-striped gypsy dress, and completely rested after the first good sleep in many weeks. "How lovely to find you two smoking a peace pipe!" She had the morning theatrical pages under her arm. "I thought you'd be fighting over the scissors to cut these marvelous reviews."

The indoor shots for the second Drake-Peyton vehicle, "The Kashmir Song," were made first, after an idyllic, but very short rest for the starring pair. Shooting lasted through June, at which time they moved on location outside Yuma for the outdoor scenes.

Loudly vociferous, Larry objected to Ralph Hay, "Snow scenes in the winter. Desert sands in the summer. What a business!"

He was his usual unsympathetic self. "Some people," he observed wearily, "just sweat. Others get paid $3,500 a week for it."

It was while Larry was in Yuma that Anette saw Lois Lyndon in the Beverly Hills shop of Drachman-Fifth Avenue. Lois pretended not to see Anette. For that reason it pleased her to step beside the blonde girl and force her unwilling recognition.

Hints on Etiquette

A hostess should always furnish a meat fork to be placed on the platter of meat when guests are invited to help themselves. If such a fork is not on hand, the guest should use his own fork, but be very sure to take the first piece of meat in which he inserts his fork.

Today's Horoscope

Those who have birthdays today will experience much happiness in love during the next year, although an elder may cause them some sorrow. Good fortune will prevail during this period, however, and their ambitions will be realized. Friends and loved ones absorb a great portion of the lives of these people. They are kind, generous, enjoy the outdoors and many sports. They should beware of letting others impose on their good nature. Born on this date a child will be very fortunate and highly successful, especially if following a musical, artistic or legal career, in which exceptional talents will be displayed.

Looking Back in Pickaway County

FIVE YEARS AGO

Miss Mary Maxine Dunlap returned to the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Renick W. Dunlap, of near Kingston after a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Carl Smith of East Chicago.

The high price of corn was advanced as the reason for the heavy receipts at the Pickaway county livestock auction sale when 273 head of cattle, 926 hogs, 65 calves and 16 sheep and lambs were delivered.

William Ramsey, Ann Arbor, Mich., was the guest of Mrs. Edna

Newmyer and Miss Mary Newmyer of North Court street.

10 YEARS AGO

Harold J. Bowers, superintendent of Deer Creek township schools, was reemployed by the board of education.

Mary Jane Schlear, 11, a pupil at High Street school, suffered a fractured left arm and bruises when she fell near roller skating on the sidewalk near her home on North Scioto street.

Mrs. Noah Weaver and Mrs. Ruth Steele Smith were honor guests when the Young Ladies' Bible class of the Presbyterian church entertained officers and teachers of the Sunday school. Mrs. Weaver and Mrs. Smith were removing to Columbus.

25 YEARS AGO

Mrs. W. P. Hartman of Grand Rapids, Mich., was the guest of her mother, Mrs. Alice Sapp, East Mound street.

Nineteen cans of fish were brought to Circleville in the state's new $40,000 fish car, and delivered to Charles Will, secretary of the Pickaway County Fish and Game commission.

NEW FRONT

MAYBE the Commando raids are but small affairs. But they grow more important and successful. The blowing up of the dock gates at St. Nazaire is no trifle to be sneezed at.

The very smallness and surprise of these attacks makes them more and more formidable. They are beginning now to assume the proportions of a new front. They keep Hitler guessing. He could prepare for a large attack from one quarter and be ready to war against it, but these mosquito-like jumps to new and scattered objectives leave him worried. No one can guess where they are going to strike next.

OVER-REACHING

THE Japanese have done what many shrewd observers expected of them. They have over-extended themselves. They are in the position of the greedy little boy who stuck his fist into the sugar bowl and grabbed so many lumps that he couldn't get his hand out. Or they have cast their net so far, and taken so many fish, that the net is bound to break. Or in plain English, they have bitten off more than they can chew.

This is a childish thing to do. And therefore a natural thing. For the Japanese war lords, with all their shrewdness, seem but half-civilized, lacking the vision and scope of western statesmen.

Soon, we trust, will begin the process of cutting the strands of that net of conquest one by one. It will not be a pleasant job, but it can be done.

POPCORN PACKING

IT MAY seem frivolous to deal on the editorial page with such matters as chocolate cake and popcorn. But with all those soldier boys clamoring for home-made cake, and all those mothers, sisters and sweethearts, not to mention aunts and grandmas, making cake and trying to think up some way to get it to Camp Shelby, Fort Knox or Randolph Field—not to mention Reikjavik or Melbourne—without losing its frosting and getting dented and funny-looking on the way, the discovery of Mrs. W. R. Robinson of Greybull, Wyo., becomes important.

Mrs. Robinson tried everything she could think of and everything her neighbors suggested, in vain. Young Robinson liked his cake anyhow, but his mother still suffered the nagging unrest of the unsolved problem. Finally it came to her. Just like that! Popcorn! It works! She sets the cake down in the box on its cardboard plate, and she pours white, fluffy popcorn all over and around. It fills the corners and even up the curves. It's strong and firm. It's so light that her parcels post

BY DREW PEARSON AND ROBERT S. ALLEN

MERRY-GO-ROUND APOLOGIZES

WASHINGTON — The Washington Merry-Go-Round wishes to correct an earlier statement that John L. Lewis had three relatives on union payrolls whose salaries, plus his own, gave the family an annual "take" of $48,500 from the collections of union dues.

We regret to say that on further investigation we find we erred grievously. We apologize to Mr. Lewis for underestimating his capacities and print below the full Lewis family payroll showing that the miner czar has not three but nine relatives in cushy jobs and that the family "take" is not $48,500 but $70,500:

John L. Lewis, president, United Mine Workers, $25,000.

Kathryn Lewis, daughter, secretary-treasurer, District 50, UMW, $7,500.

Denny Lewis, brother, head of United Construction Workers Organizing Committee, $10,000.

J. R. Bell, brother-in-law, CIO controller, $8,000.

Orin Miller, brother-in-law, superintendent of the UMW office building in Indianapolis, Ind., $5,000.

Dan Collins, brother-in-law, CIO organizer, $3,600.

William Thomas, cousin, superintendent UMW building in Washington, $5,000.

Margaret Lindig, sister-in-law of Denny, UMW stenographer, $2,400.

Ann Miller, daughter of brother-in-law Orin Miller, UMW stenographer, $2,400.

Son-in-law of Floyd Bell, another Lewis brother-in-law, District 50 organizer, $3,600.

Total Lewis family payroll, $70,500. (* In addition to their big salaries, Lewis, his daughter and brother also have fat expense accounts. What they spend is their secret. No figures have ever been revealed, even to union members.)

AND STILL MORE

Imposing as is this payroll list, it still does not tell the whole story.

There is one Lewis relative who is not on a union payroll but who garners a high-bracket income from unions controlled by John L. He is brother-in-law Floyd Bell, an insurance agent. Representative of a surety company, Bell has what amounts to a monopoly on the business of bonding all national, district and local UMW officers and all CIO officials.

His commissions are estimated at $40,000 a year.

This sum, plus the payroll listed above, would bring the total "take" of the Lewis family up to $111,500 a year.

Justice Department big-shots have a bear by the tail and don't know what to do with it.

The bear consists of accusations that Representative Gene Cox of Georgia violated the criminal statute (Title 18, U. S. Code, Sec. 203) which prohibits members of Congress from receiving compensation.

costs are less. And do the boys eat it up? They do.

Causes of Painful Feet And How to Treat Them

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

PEOPLE who have had feet usually get a sore view of the world and I can't say I much blame them. When your feet hurt, they hurt so much of the time that

Dr. Clendening will answer questions of general interest only, and then only through his column.

you can't even walk around to relieve them.

At any rate, when the patients arrive at the doctor's office, they are usually distinguished by having an A-1 grouch. They have been led along various paths of dubious treatments with all sorts of hopes held out for them and no relief in the end.

They have been misled by all sorts of advertising sides and semi-specialists and usually bring a bag of various kinds of arch supports and devices accumulated over the passing years. This eloquent reminder of past failures is put on the foot specialist's desk with a sort of attitude which says, "I dare you to try to give me some relief."

Has Many Complaints

The fellow with bad feet has both general and local complaints. He is fatigued, irritable and unhappy. His heels ache, pains shoot up from his ankles, or the discomfort may center entirely about the arch.

Obviously in handling these patients the specialist will take into account the general as well as the local condition. The patient doesn't always necessarily and inevitably need arches. Perhaps his condition is due to a life-long habit of walking badly. So the first step in the examination of such a patient is to get him to walk around and see how he does it.

Badly Distributed Weight

His foot may be strained because something is the matter with his lower back, hip, knee or ankle joint, or because he has continued over a period of years to distribute his weight badly. Perhaps there is a history of strain on some part of his foot that makes him unable to bear that weight on it. The color of his skin is important, as well as signs of inflammation such as bursitis, planter warts, calluses or bunions.

After this the feet are studied in relation to the weight-bearing function, and an X-ray is indispensable in disclosing painful bone conditions that are otherwise not clearly evident on physical examination. Not only shoes, but socks are checked for adequate size.

In the long run, however, the essential thing about most foot conditions is the use of proper shoes. Again this means an individual adjustment of the shoe to the requirements of the patient. A shoe that may be all right for one person is by no means necessarily all right

LENTEN REDUCING DIET

(For Friday—775 calories)

Efficient, Balanced, Satisfying

BREAKFAST

½ grapefruit (roughage—vitamin C—75 calories); 1 slice toast (75 calories); 1 cup coffee—no cream or sugar.

LUNCH

1 poached egg on broiled tomato (vitamins B and C—75 calories); 1 slice toast (75 calories); 2 tablespoons apple sauce (roughage—75 calories); 1 cup tea—no cream or sugar.

DINNER

Fruit cocktail—no sugar (roughage—75 calories); average helping broiled, baked or boiled fish (150 calories); cucumber, watercress and lettuce salad served in place of vegetable (25 calories); 1 piece cheese size of a domino (75 calories); 2 soda crackers (75 calories); 1 small cup coffee—no cream or sugar.

For 20 other people. The shoe must be adapted to function and to the anatomy of the foot. For the normal child, the shoe should have a well-rounded toe, the leather sole should be of adequate thickness and the shank sturdy but flexible.

In children who are overweight, with weak or pronated ankles, the shank should be stiff and necessary corrections made. For men with no special foot trouble the best shoe has a rounded toe, is of soft leather, with a thick leather sole of adequate length and width.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

E. M. R.:—Can there be some substitution in the diet of a pregnant woman to supply calcium if the consumption of milk causes an irritated condition of the gall bladder and the stomach resulting in a hacking cough and bad sweating on the chest during the night? If this condition seems apparent before pregnancy, could adjustments be made during the period, thus supplying the prospective mother with enough calcium?

Answer: Vegetables, eggs, fruits and meat all contain calcium and it is possible to take calcium in pure form, such as calcium carbonate. In my experience however, inability to drink milk is more imaginary than real and can be overcome by persuasion.

LORENA CARLETON

CHAPTER THIRTY-FOUR

NOTHING Lois Lyndon could have done would have made Larry detest her more thoroughly. Positively slinking, Anette pulled her momentary escort from his chair and led him to the dance stage and into a hilarious conga chain. Above everything, she did not wish Larry to know she had debased that moment of utter desecration.

When they arrived home, about 3 o'clock, and Larry reached for a mirror and began a penetrating scrutiny of his temples, she knew he did not suspect she had seen or heard anything. And, for once, she was thankful that the liquor had dimmed his perception.

She even asked with careless laughter, "What on earth are you looking for, darling?"

"Gray hairs," he said immediately, still turning and twisting his head.

The girl slipped out of her long silver cloth coat, then walked over and took the hand mirror away from him. "How ridiculous!" she scolded mildly. "You haven't had one for ages."

"But I have, Anette. I've been pulling them out. They seem to get there faster than I can yank them out." His worried gaze sought hers.

"Tell me how I seem to you, Anette. You're only 19. Do I seem old to you?"

"It's not your long white beard that I mind. It's the way your joints creak when you lower yourself to your wheel chair." Flippancy changed into impatient sharpness. "Larry, to me you are the most wonderful and perfect person in the world. You're just right. In your work, you're right for August's 40, or whatever she is, just as you're right in real life for my 19. I don't think of you as anything except perfect. That day in your theater dressing room in Chicago, when you kissed me, I swore never to admit how much I loved you, to keep it from you as a sort of self-preservation or inner pride or something. I don't know exactly what. She shook her head. "But now, I don't want to keep quiet. It would be useless anyway, because you know how much I love you. You know that I'm sick with it and that I'll never be any other way."

She put her hands on his black-clad shoulders, yet kept her so distant. "Anette, the doorman."

Larry gazed at her, so beautiful in her bouffant gown of white and silver embroidery, her jewels shimmering like myriad lights. Then he snatched her into his arms. "Oh, my darling, I'm such a fool—such a fool!"

He repeated the same remark to August Drake the morning after. They were having an 11 o'clock meal in a small, glass-walled breakfast room. The actress did not argue with him.

"I don't know why I get myself involved in silly situations." He glowered into an empty cereal dish. "Like this Lois Lyndon episode."

His eyes sought August's. "You know, the crazy kid has marrying ideas. Imagine! But it's all over now, thank heaven!"

The actress poured herself a cup of black coffee. "I never could figure out why you passed Lois up cold when you were single. Why did you have to wait until you were married to discover her charms?"

"So long as she was kissing me," he confessed, "I was bored with her. Then, to jolt Anette into coming with me, I kissed Lois. That's when it started to be different. After all, August, it had been over a year since I'd kissed anyone except Anette."

"What a record!" August commented dryly.

"Well, it was! You know how many girls I usually averaged a season."

"Spare me!" The actress forbade, with an upraised hand. "Anyway, marriage is supposed to make a difference in one's romances."

Larry waited until the Filipino waiter had served her a con and poached eggs and retired to the serving pantry. "These silly little affairs have nothing to do with my marriage," he insisted.

"That's the remark men have been making since the first one made a fool of himself. Silly affairs mean something to Anette."

A quick unhappiness swept across Laurence Peyton's face. "If she would just be the spunky little dickens she used to be, instead of such a meek angel, I'd feel better. I find myself wishing she'd hit me with a brick."

"You've shouldn't she be meek? You've taken her work away from her and you do pretty well at taking yourself from her."

Larry scoffed, "Anette doesn't care about her work."

"You are lying and you know it," his partner pronounced. "If ever I saw a girl intended for the theater, she is it."

"All the same she isn't going to be. The only appearances I want her making are those as Laurence Peyton's wife."

"Why, you detestably conceited, selfish pig!" cried August. She hardly could remember when any personal matter had irritated her sufficiently to cause tears other than those commonly called crocodile. But tears of sincerity were in her eyes now.

"Take it easy!" Larry said softly, but harshly. "You know I've tried to get her a break. But I'll be damned if I'll let her start out as one of the starlets on a penny bank salary."

"She would be willing."

Peyton said in determined repetition. "Well, I'm not! So since they won't offer her what she's worthy of, she is better off just as my wife."

August Drake's glass-heeled boudoir slipper came down on the floor bell. "Bring me some brown sugar and heavy cream," she directed the Filipino boy. Later, burying the unwashed stewed apples of her diet beneath that double richness, she accused Larry.

"It's your fault. You make me so mad I have to do something violent and this is the most violent thing I can do."

In a tone of dictatorship the man said, "You shouldn't touch it. You know what it will do to your hips."

"Yes. And I know what the woofle water is doing to you." The fiery-haired actress turned angry eyes toward her partner. "Either that or the robe you're wearing is darned unbecoming. And I'm sure," she continued viciously, "it is not the robe."

Larry flushed. "Well, what is a guy going to do in a town where champagne flows like Gown Creek in March?"

"Why don't you try shaking your head crosswise for a change instead of up and down?"

Rebelliously Larry said, "I like to drink."

"But you've got to have some sense about it. I like to eat, too," she flared. "I'd like to sit down right now to a New England meal of baked beans, country sausage, corn pudding, creamed oysters, cider jelly, apple Betty—when I marry you," she asserted, "I'm going to eat everything and as often as I wish."

Laurence Peyton put down his fork and leaned back in his chair. "Do you mean to say you are going to get married again?" When she nodded, without losing a chance at a bite of cream and sugar soaked apples, he said, "I should think you'd realize what marriage will do to your picture career."

"In this town where couples you don't even know are married get divorces?" August hooted. "Don't be idiotic! Besides, when I made that remonstrance concerning your marriage you told me it was an old chestnut."

"You kept on finding fault just the same," Larry reminded.

"Yes, and I still don't think much of your marriage," she declared meaningfully.

"Don't bother yourself with it."

"Oh, I won't. She gave a high-shouldered shrug. "I'll just think about my own. I'm going to get wrinkles and chins and hips and stomachs."

The man cut in churlishly, "Then you won't work with me."

"I'll bet you're right."

During that lull, Anette walked into the breakfast room, lovely in a bright-striped gypsy dress, and completely rested after the first good sleep in many weeks. "How lovely to find you two smoking a peace pipe." She had the morning theatrical pages under her arm. "I thought you'd be fighting over the scissors to cut out these marvelous reviews."

The indoor shots for the second Drake-Peyton vehicle, "The Kashmir Song," were made. First, after an idyllic but very short rest for the starring pair, shooting lasted through June, at which time they went on location outside Yuma for the outdoor scenes.

Loudly vociferous, Larry objected to Ralph Hay, "Snow scenes in the winter. Desert sands in the summer. What a business!"

He was his usual unsympathetic self. "Some people," he observed wearily, "just sweat. Others get paid $3,500 a week for it."

It was while Larry was in Yuma that Anette saw Lois Lyndon in the Beverly Hills show of Drachman-Fifth Avenue. Lois pretended not to see Anette. For that reason it pleased her to step beside the blonde girl and force her unwilling recognition.

Hints on Etiquette

A hostess should always furnish a meat fork to be placed on the platter of meat when guests are invited to help themselves. If such a fork is not on hand, the guest should use his own fork, but be very sure to take the first piece of meat in which he inserts his fork.

Today's Horoscope

Those who have birthdays today will experience much happiness in love during the next year, although an elder may cause them some sorrow. Good fortune will prevail during this period, however, and their ambitions will be realized. Friends and loved ones absorb a great portion of the lives of these people. They are kind, generous, enjoy the outdoors and many sports. They should beware of letting others impose on their good nature. Born on this date a child will be very fortunate and highly successful, especially if following a musical, artistic or legal career, in which exceptional talents will be displayed.

One-Minute Test Answers

1. The provision for equal representation of the states in the senate.

2. Asia and North America.

Looking Back in Pickaway County

FIVE YEARS AGO
Miss Mary Maxine Dunlap returned to the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Renick W. Dunlap, of near Kingston after a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Carl Smith of East Chicago.

The high price of corn was advanced as the reason for the heavy receipts at the Pickaway county livestock auction sale when 273 head of cattle, 925 hogs, 65 calves and 16 sheep and lambs were delivered.

William Ramsey, Ann Arbor, Mich., was the guest of Mrs. Edna

Newmyer and Miss Mary Newmyer of North Court street.

10 YEARS AGO
Harold J. Bowers, superintendent of Deer Creek township schools, was reemployed by the board of education.

Mary Jane Schier, 11, a pupil at High street school, suffered a fractured left arm and bruises when she fell when roller skating on the sidewalk near her home on North Scioto street.

Mrs. Noah Weaver and Mrs. Ruth Steele Smith were honor guests when the Young Ladies' Bible class of the Presbyterian church entertained officers and teachers of the Sunday school. Mrs. Weaver and Mrs. Smith were removing to Columbus.

25 YEARS AGO
Mrs. W. P. Hartman of Grand Rapids, Mich., was the guest of her mother, Mrs. Alice Sapp, East Mound street.

Nineteen cans of fish were brought to Circleville in the state's new $40,000 fish car, and delivered to Charles Will, secretary of the Pickaway County Fish and Game commission.

Pages From the Diary of An Antiquated Reporter:

Up to a coolish morning and did wonder when Spring really will arrive. Noted all the young plants shivering in the back yard. Considered the Victory Garden and will plant it, but I know full well in advance whose will be the victory. And it will not be mine. Never has been and I am certain those darned seeds don't know there is a war on. Headed for the post and found the bulk of the mail from the government, news stories and advertisements we are expected to run gratis.

The government pays for everything it buys except newspaper space. Since December 3 this paper has printed a total of more than 4,000 inches of advertising boosting various government undertakings. For this we have received not one penny although the actual cost to the newspaper has been about $920. Actual production cost figures produced that total.

Mr., Mrs. John T. Davis Are Guests At Dinner

Fifty-Sixth Date Of Marriage Observed

Mr. and Mrs. John T. Davis of Monroe township were honor guests Wednesday at a delightful family celebration of their fifty-sixth wedding anniversary when Mr. and Mrs. Ray W. Davis, their son and daughter-in-law, entertained at their home on Montclair avenue. The affair also commemorated Mrs. Ida Long of Five Points on her birthday anniversary. Mrs. Long is a sister of the elder Mr. Davis.

A beautifully decorated anniversary cake centered the table where dinner was served.

Covers were placed for Mr. and Mrs. Davis and Mrs. Long; the Rev. Robert T. Kelsey, East Mound street; Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Heiskell, Miss Marjorie Heiskell and Billy Heiskell of Williamsport; Mrs. Emerson Hurley and children, Beverly Ann and Don Ray, of Five Points and Mr. and Mrs. Davis of the home.

Loomis-MacKinnon

Miss Rita Joan MacKinnon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. MacKinnon of Columbus, and Mr. Calvin Loomis have chosen April 16 as the date for their wedding. Many parties have been planned in honor of the bride before her marriage.

One of these will be a bridge party and handkerchief shower April 9 with Mrs. Frank H. Vogel, 333 Kendall place, and Mrs. Joseph L. Stanton, 67 North Cassingham road, as joint hostesses at the Vogel home.

Mrs. MacKinnon, mother of the bride-elect, is the former Helen Lewis of Circleville. Mrs. Stanton is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel F. Groom of South Washington street.

Pythian Sisters

Major temple, Pythian Sisters, will meet in regular session to night in the lodge room, Pythian Castle.

St. Paul Aid Society

The Ladies Aid society of the St. Paul Lutheran church met Thursday in the parish hall and was entertained by Mrs. Curtis Cronley, Mrs. Orville Vause and

CRISP GUESTS

Donald Crisp, veteran producer and actor who has been much in the news of late with his winning of an Oscar from the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences for his portrayal of the Welsh father in "How Green Was My Valley," will be Milton Berle's guest on Three Ring Time Tuesday at 8:30 p. m.

WITH MCCARTHY

Charlie McCarthy at long last has found the perfect date, one who is not only lovely to look at, but able—and willing, too—to sing him the songs he loves so well—in a word, Jeannette MacDonald of the films who will put in a guest appearance on the McCarthy show Sunday, at 8 p. m. Miss MacDonald will sing the music of Easter.

RADIO BRIEFS

Photographers can take as many pictures as they want of the orchestra Harry Salter uses on the Frank Fay comedy series, as long as they don't include the whole band. It's a pet superstition with Salter, who feels that someone will leave the organization shortly after such a picture is snapped.

The expression "one can hear a pin drop" has actual meaning in the studio broadcasting the "Great Moments in Music" program. Accoustics are such that even whispered conversation is taboo since it will be picked up by the attentive microphone.

Mr., Mrs. John T. Davis Are Guests At Dinner

Fifty-Sixth Date
Of Marriage
Observed

Mr. and Mrs. John T. Davis of Monroe township were honor guests Wednesday at a delightful family celebration of their fifty-sixth wedding anniversary when Mr. and Mrs. Ray W. Davis, their son and daughter-in-law, entertained at their home on Montclair avenue. The affair also commemorated Mrs. Ida Long of Five Points on her birthday anniversary. Mrs. Long is a sister of the elder Mr. Davis.

A beautifully decorated anniversary cake centered the table where dinner was served.

Covers were placed for Mr. and Mrs. Davis and Mrs. Long; the Rev. Robert T. Kelsey, East Mound street; Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Heiskell, Miss Marjorie Heiskell and Billy Heiskell of Williamsport; Mrs. Emerson Hurley and children, Beverly Ann and Don Ray, of Five Points and Mr. and Mrs. Davis of the home.

Loomis-MacKinnon

Miss Rita Joan MacKinnon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. MacKinnon of Columbus, and Mr. Calvin Loomis have chosen April 16 as the date for their wedding. Many parties have been planned in honor of the bride before her marriage.

One of these will be a bridge party and handkerchief shower April 9 with Mrs. Frank H. Vogel, 333 Kendall place, and Mrs. Joseph L. Stanton, 67 North Cassingham road, as joint hostesses at the Vogel home.

Mrs. MacKinnon, mother of the bride-elect, is the former Helen Lewis of Circleville. Mrs. Stanton is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel F. Groom of South Washington street.

Pythian Sisters

Major temple, Pythian Sisters, will meet in regular session tonight in the lodge room, Pythian Castle.

St. Paul Aid Society

The Ladies' Aid society of the St. Paul Lutheran church met Thursday in the parish hall and was entertained by Mrs. Curtis Cromley, Mrs. Orville Vause and Mrs. John Shannon. The session was marked by an excellent attendance, about 50 gathering for the afternoon.

Mrs. Ralph Fisher, president, led the devotion. Mrs. George Kuhn read and discussed the missionary topic, "Missions in New Guinea," as presented in the Outlook.

During the business meeting, Mrs. John Sark and Mrs. Clarence Noecker were chosen as delegates to the convention of the State Federation of the American Lutheran church which will be April 30 in Columbus. The society also decided to have a Mother and Daughter banquet and Mrs. Harold Fisher was named general chairman for the affair.

Each member took one dozen eggs to the meeting. These were to be sent to the Evangelical Center, Columbus, to be colored for Easter distribution to needy children of that city.

Mrs. Curtis Fisher as program chairman presented Lonnie Cromley in a recitation; Mrs. Joseph Peters, piano solo; Mrs. Ralph Dunkel, vocal solo; a talk by Mrs. Fannie Brooks, AAA fieldwoman for Pickaway county, and a vocal solo, Mrs. Harold Fisher.

The hostess served lunch at the close of the afternoon.

SEALS BRING OPPORTUNITY TO CRIPPLED

Bringing the public a better understanding of the educational needs of physically handicapped youngsters is one of the objectives of the Easter Seal Sale for crippled children now in progress. The children above are among the ten percent of the nation's crippled children who have educational opportunities which are commonly accepted as necessary to all children. It is estimated that 90 percent of America's handicapped children lack proper school facilities.

Cincinnati Obtains 21 Fielders In Last Four Years; Jobs Still Open

BY JOHN CARR

INS Sports Writer

Cincinnati has invested more than a quarter of a million dollars
 in stocking the Crosley meadows
 with 21 outfielders in the last four years, but who'll play the outfield
 this season is still the $64 question.

The Reds placed a $20,000 down
 payment on the National league
 pennant when they purchased Gee
 Walker from Cleveland, where
 he hit .283 in 121 games last season. A veteran of nine years in the American league, Gee's batting average for that time is
 .307, which makes him sultan of the Crosley ballfield.

Somewhat of an eccentric base
 runner, Walker's major league
 thefts total 191 bases. The 33-
 year-old outfielder's season's record of stolen bases, 30, was made with Detroit in 1932.

Toledo university Rockets, who
 set New York basketball fans
 agog when they trimmed mighty
 Long Island university and Rhode Island state at Madison Square Garden Invitation tourney, will exhibit a sample of that form to East Liverpool citizens.

The Rockets together with Muskingum college, which placed third in the Ohio conference and
 scored the lone defeat against loop leaders, Mt. Union, are entered in the 17th annual Tri-State amateur basketball tournament.

 The three-day meet opens
 Thursday in East Liverpool's high school gymnasium, but neither team will be playing under its college banners. With Bob Gerber, the country's second highest collegiate scorer in the line-up, the Rockets will play for Willis
 Overland of Toledo and Muskingum under the colors of Fleet-Wing.

Russ Wolfe, Upper Sandusky high school star halfback who led his team through an unbeaten 1941 season, is slated to enter Ohio State university during the Summer session. Departure of the "flying express" is only one his old mentor's gridiron problems
 this year. Coach Dave Henderson hopes he can get enough "Rams" out in Spring practice to provide scrimmaging workouts.

A "coach of champs" will speak to the champs of Ohio's Class A state basketball circuit. Adolph Rupp, whose University of Kentucky quintet won the southeastern basketball title and eliminated the mighty Illinois five, Big Ten champs, in the N. C. A. A. tournament, will be the feature speaker at the Monday banquet arranged to honor Xenia Central's basketball squad.

ATHLETICS, CUBS TANGLE

IN 17-INNING BALL GAME

TUCSON, Ariz., April 2—Connie Mack's Athletics today had celebrated the return of First Baseman Dick Siebert by holding Chicago's Cubs to a 7 to 7 tie in a 17 inning game which was concluded only because of darkness
 and a lack of baseballs. The longest game of the Spring training
 season was evened in the seventh after Felix Makiewicz scored a three-run homer when the Athletics were behind.

BUCKS OPEN APRIL 11

COLUMBUS, April 2—Ohio
 State's baseball season will open
 April 11 when the Bucks go to Athens to meet Ohio university
 in the first game of a revised 22-
 game schedule. Coach Fritz
 Mackey has only four hurlers, two outfielders and a first-baseman
 from the squad which last year
 won 18 of 31 contests.

Cincinnati Obtains 21 Fielders In Last Four Years; Jobs Still Open

BY JOHN CARR
INS Sports Writer

Cincinnati has invested more than a quarter of a million dollars
in stocking the Crosley meadows
with 21 outfielders in the last four years, but who'll play the outfield
this season is still the $64 question.

The Reds placed a $20,000 down
payment on the National league
pennant when they purchased Gee
Walker from Cleveland, where
he hit .283 in 121 games last season. A veteran of nine years
in the American league, Gee's
batting average for that time is
.307, which makes him sultan of the Crosley ballclub.

Somewhat of an eccentric base
runner, Walker's major league
thefts total 191 bases. The 33-
year-old outfielder's season's record of stolen bases, 30, was made
with Detroit in 1932.

Toledo university Rockets, who
set New York basketball fans
agog when they trimmed mighty
Long Island university and Rhode Island state at Madison Square Garden Invitation tourney, will exhibit a sample of that form to East
Liverpool citizens.

The Rockets together with Muskingum college, which placed third in the Ohio conference and
scored the lone defeat against loop

ATHLETICS, CUBS TANGLE IN 17-INNING BALL GAME

TUCSON, Ariz., April 2—Connie Mack's Athletics today had
celebrated the return of First Baseman Dick Siebert by holding Chicago's Cubs to a 7 to 7 tie in
a 17 inning game which was concluded only because of darkness
and a lack of baseballs. The longest game of the Spring training
season was evened in the seventh at Felix Makiewicz scored a three-run homer when the Athletics were behind.

BUCKS OPEN APRIL 11

COLUMBUS, April 2—Ohio
State's baseball season will open
April 11 when the Bucks go to Athens to meet Ohio university
in the first game of a revised 22-
game schedule. Coach Fritz
Mackey has only four hurlers, two
outfielders and a first-baseman
from the squad which last year
won 18 of 31 contests.
